

THE REGISTRY INSIDER

THIRD QUARTER 2014

MANAGER'S MESSAGE

One of my fondest vacation memories was from a family reunion many years ago. My wife wanted to gather her extended family together for the very first time and I was put in charge of finding the place to go. We had about 30 folks from ages three to 90 representing four generations so it was a challenge to figure out how to pick somewhere that would make everyone happy. In the end, we invited the group to experience a go-back-in-time vacation in the low country of South Carolina, which for our international readers, is located on the US southeastern coast a couple hours north of Florida.

We chose a secluded golf and nature resort on an island, accessible only by ferry from the mainland. It wasn't until we sat down for dinner that first night that we learned the two great grandparents had never been on a boat in their 80 plus years. It was an adventure from the beginning for them! We wanted to spend a week together with limited distractions that might have family members straying too far. This was a time to become reacquainted with some long lost aunts, uncles and cousins and to have the youngest get to know the oldest in an unhurried, unwired way. It was by design we settled on this island. There was no shopping, only a couple of restaurants, no cars, and kids were free to roam around without fear of getting lost in the crowd. It was perfect. We rode horses, played golf (mini golf too), cooked together, dug for clams and had amazing low country "boils" on the beach. We got to know each other in ways we couldn't have imagined during hurried Thanksgiving dinners at home, via Skype or from the annual holiday letter. The week flew by.

That magical place is now known as Daufuskie Island Resort and Spa and I am writing to you as I sit on the porch of one of the Oceanfront Residence Club cottages affiliated with The Registry Collection® program. It's my first time back since that wonderful reunion and I remember it as if it were yesterday. Our family hasn't been together like that since and it reminds me that as we rush around in our busy lives and manage vacations with our children and best friends, we need to make an effort to connect our extended families more often. Call it a reunion or a gathering. It doesn't matter what it's called as long as we spend quality time letting generations interact, passing down history and traditions that make families stronger.

In the past few months I have visited Registry Collection affiliated resorts on the coast of England, Barbados, North Carolina, Florida and Western Canada. Any of them would make a perfect spot for your next extended family gathering. Inside this edition of The Registry Insider we'll introduce you to idyllic McCall, Idaho where two resort properties would be wonderful reunion choices. I urge you to visit our website to learn more about these and other off the beaten track locations that everyone in your group will enjoy.

It's time for me to...do nothing. I can't let this sunset on Daufuskie Island pass me by, so until next time, I hope you'll take a few moments to start planning your perfect extended family gathering. Our Reservation Consultants are ready to help you choose the right time and the perfect place. You'll come away with a lifetime of memories in one week, I promise.

MEMBER TESTIMONIAL

In addition to serving as a winter adventurer's playground with an average of 300 inches of snowfall each year, McCall is also home to the annual McCall Winter Carnival. Held for 10 days at the end of January through the first week of February, the spectacular event features fireworks, dog pull races, a Neon Light Parade, and other similarly unforgettable activities. The snow-capped peaks surrounding the town make a cinema-worthy backdrop for a full day's adventure.

The Registry Collection member Tom D. had the good fortune of visiting McCall during the carnival. He returned raving about the event, as well as his experience staying at

Hearthstone at Spring Mountain Ranch:

"Staying at Hearthstone was a wonderful experience. After a warm welcome by the Hearthstone staff, we settled in to our beautiful home away from home. The Hearthstone staff provided wonderful advice on what see and do during the Winter Carnival including making reservations for a dinner with wine paired for each course.

"At the Winter Carnival we had a wonderful time visiting all the snow sculptures on display, parades, and the various stalls selling an array of products and food. Hearthstone was perfect for us. McCall is charming, the lake unbelievably beautiful and the skiing, snowmobiling and tubing made our stay perfect."
